

MARCELO SCHUNCK GUIMARÃES

IN CHARGE OF ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION, RECREATION, DIVING ACTIVITIES

Born in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil in 1966 and passionate about the ocean and scuba diving, he has a bachelor in Marine Biology, a Certificate in Hospitality Management from Cornell University and he is a scuba diving instructor from PADI, NAUI & CMAS since 1985.

After running his own dive business in Brazil from 1989 to 1995, he decided to travel the world scuba diving, and during four years he went from the Bahamas to Turks & Caicos Islands, from the Caribbean to Mexico, to end with one year on a crew ship with two transatlantic crossings.

After a quick stop in Brazil for family reasons it was time to hit the road again. He left for a three years assignment in the Maldives as Dive Center Manager, eight years in Egypt as Regional Manager and one year as Regional Manager American Zone for two diving & water sports European companies.

He now works as a consultant for resorts and new destinations on how to establish water sports activities, sustainable tourism and best guest experience practices.

His hobbies are photography & mountain biking having produced two TV series so far, one on ship wreck diving in Egypt and one about cycling in Rio de Janeiro.
